

It's Your Opportunity.

The early days of July will prove the superiority of you here. We've many superior values—in regular lines—in broken lines—odds and ends from the busy season, and as is our usual custom, we clear them quickly. We do not hesitate to name the prices that will do it. It's the volume of trade we're after in July, and the between-season buyer gets the benefit of the low sweep to the prices.

We Divide With You.

It's even better than that, in the items that follow. You get the lion's share of the profits, for in our desire to push their sale, we lose sight of possible margins. If you're quite particular as to values—if you wish your money to go a long distance, it will pay you to come to our store for every July need.

There's never any "between-season" lagging of interest at our store. Your buying needs go on each day and each week, and we're always ready for you with our foremost values.

Tiding it Over.

It's the summer days that you wish to tide over in a comfortable manner, and you'll want your clothing to be the right sort. If it fits you right, it proves a wonderful aid to summer enjoyment. The right-fitting kind, too, is the Edward Rose & Co., Chicago, make. You get every good point in this famous tailoring that best dresses desire.

Whiskey Election Contested.

The following named parties R. T. Collins, Henry Nall, T. L. Griffin, J. S. Morgan, J. W. Ford, A. C. Yeager, J. W. M. Haden, J. L. Collins, J. W. Thomas, W. B. Griffin and E. B. Pennington have filed notice of contest of the recent whisky election held in Hartford. They claim in their notice of contest that the submission was for cash, but the order cancelling the election was prematurely made and that there were illegal votes permitted and legal votes refused, and that the returns from West Hartford were not properly signed. It is, we understand, conceded by the contestants that the election was not properly advertised and the order for holding the election was prematurely made. Hence an election is to be held on the 29th inst., where we are informed will be done as quickly as it can be properly done.
